Hamlin Merchants Encourage Better Livestock

The Boyd Building Is Now Completed - For Safeway

Now the description of a building is not a hard matter, but when it comes to telling about a modern-fixture grocery store, with all the new-fangled colors and shades, and handy containers, etc is another problem.

The general appearance of the Boyd Building, is one of extreme modernity. The entire outer walls have been covered with a cream tint stucco, no awnings, but a metal awning hood for a cloth awning, this is trimmed in a soft golden color. The entire building has only one door for customers and the plate glass lighting is lower than in the old building, having an aluminum trimming. The bulkheads beneath the plate glass are finished in red tile blocks, with a row of black at the bottom. The space on the pillars above the bulkheads will be done in black carara. The building was re-roofed, and several modern ceiling ventilators were installed, also several more sky-lights were installed, all doors in the old building in the rear were closed up and only one for freight was provided in the re-modeling. The inside rear fourth of the floor space is for freight delivery and storage. Freighters can deliver goods any hour of the night without entering the store room. All the ceiling space from front to back is painted in a pure white, with the walls in a soft green shade. Extensive electrical outlets are available for lights and any and all uses for electricity. The floors were relaid with hardwood. New concrete walks have also been laid and curbing repaired—all to harmonize with other new work.

This building is said by the Safeway District Manager, Mr. Williams, of Abilene, to be the most modern and as pretty as any they possess anywhere.

THE NEW SAFEWAY

As we have said above, it is quite impossible to describe a new-fangled modern grocery store. When you enter there the next few days, it will be hard to tell which attracts the most attention, the force, with their beaming faces, or the store and all its "fixin'".

When we say force, we mean, first of all, Mr. Burk, manager and Paul Green, head salesman, Al Butler, salesman and Jodie Creel, the market man . . . all of these fellows are stepping high and smiling tops. They have oodles of room, and will delight in showing their friends all round.

Safeway has a color scheme of light green and white, with considerable chromeum finish. Their market is supplied with extra large refrigeration, and all parts are finished in white baked enamel, with chromeum trim. One big feature in the new set up is their vegetable refrigeration capacity. Another feature is that no foods touch the floor. Easy transit on trucks make stocking rapid.

W. L. Boyd is not the oldest man in Hamlin, in point of years of residence here, neither is he the oldest in point of years, but on the other hand he is the "youngest" booster for Hamlin, in that he evidently believes in this "Man's town" or else.

Some months ago he paid many thousands of dollars for one of the most important business corners in Hamlin—known for 30 years as the D. J. Payne Building. And this building has a most wonderful record. The early pioneer would not half recognize that corner if he should drop in this Friday morning, Feb. 9, 1940. There are no long old-fashioned overhanging awnings stretching all along the front and the sides that were once so famous. The whole "atmosphere" has been cleared.

Mr. Boyd must have had a vision when he purchased the building, 50 feet by 140. Part of it was oc-

Jones County Tops 19 Counties In Oil Wells

From J. C. Watson, Executive Secretary West-Central Texas Oil & Gas Association, Abilene, Texas

Oil activity during 1939 in the entire West-Central Texas district composed of 19 counties, lagged behind 1938, according to figures compiled by the West-Central Texas Oil & Gas Association.

There were 48 fewer completions, 28 fewer oil wells and 23 fewer dry holes than in 1938.

Yet several counties, such as Jones, Shackleford, Coleman and Eastland, were gainers.

Young county reported the largest number of completions in the district with 256, yet fell under the 1938 figure of 314. It also ran second to Jones county in number of oil producers completed.

JONES COUNTY TOPS

Jones county led the district in number of oil wells finished, with a total of 181 in 1939, while Young had 131 and Shackleford finished third with 109.

The district marked off 1,194 tests drilled during 1939, as against a total of 1,242 tests drilled the previous year. There were 586 new producers added, against 614 in 1938; and 567 dry holes as compared with 590 dry holes the preceding twelve months.

Complete tabulation for 1939 follows:

Hamlin Chamber Commerce Banquet Monday Measured Up To Standard

The climax of Hamlin commercial and civic interests is always found to center in the Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet, and it would appear that under the leadership of President W. C. Russell, each year it grows more and more into a formal and social event, as well.

Monday evening the banquet was carried out in fine detail of a welcome to the many visiting towns and cordial greeting to each and everyone. The basement of the Methodist Church building is an ideal place for such a function, and the ladies of the church did a good job of providing more than 200 plates and serving the jolly crowd of men and women. Appropriate decorations were used on each of the five long tables. A three-foot oil derrick, lighted by tall red candles that burned during the dinner, gave the impression that gas was lighting up the area. The derrick carried the names of the Table Host and Hostess at the top. In addition to the derricks, the tables were given a touch of Valentine by red hearts placed at vantage points down the center of the tables. The speakers' table was centered by a large bouquet of flowers flanked by red candles and red hearts.

Huge placards of Chamber of Commerce accomplishments, were on display back of the speakers' table and in front of the stage. These statements and figures were given in hand-letters of black and red ink. Ted Russell proved that all worthwhile progress in the Hamlin territory belonged to the credit of the Chamber of Commerce. He said that recently Hamlin had the longest drouth and the coldest weather in ten years and there was no reason why the Chamber of Commerce should not have credit for it.

One of the features of the evening this year, was that each table had a Host and Hostess. The visiting guests from Albany, Anson, Abilene, Haskell, Stamford, Rotan, Aspermont, McCaulley and Sylvestre were assigned to numbered tables, at which Supt. and Mrs. Gordon Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Cassle, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Brundage, Mr. and Mrs. Holly Toler and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albritton presided. Every plate was taken and an overflow room took care of the late comers. Capacity of the place served to keep the attendance lower by perhaps fifty or more persons.

ENTERTAINMENT

Entertainment is essential at any banquet. Tuesday night the entertainers were from Hardin-Simmons University, and they proved favorites to everyone. The collegians were directed by Joedene Probst, a versatile young fellow, who is capable of entertaining all by himself. He is a tenor soloist, whose sparkles in every movement. The marimbo trio was composed of George Gates, Bernard Kirkpatrick, and Elpidio Uribe. Miss Helen Dunham was pianist and accompanist and Miss Marijohn Melson was soloist and accordionist.

SPEAKER OF THE EVENING

Announcements last week indicated that Chairman Brady P. Gentry, of the Highway Department, was to be the speaker of the evening, but a message came that he was very ill, and his appointment had to be cancelled. As a pinch hitter, H. C. Burke, a prominent banker at Fort Worth, was secured. His subject centered around the thought, "I Am An American Citizen," or "Why America." He emphasized a few cardinal points for all Americans to keep in mind. That nothing in this country was new except government. That our democracy called for a state for the individual and not the individual for the state. That economic democracy kills individual democracy or that both cannot exist at the same time as exemplified by three countries, Russia, Germany and Italy. Mr. Burke made it clear that ALL of us are just offsprings of European stock and that our forebears came to a new country in fear of governments or economic oppression.

At the end of the program the election committee announced that Holly Toler, I. R. Witt, James Dunlap and Joe L. Culbertson had been voted the new directors for a period of two years. The board of directors will meet soon and select a President for the year 1940.

See Secretary Benson's report of finances on Editorial page.

Mrs. T. R. Tegert who has been very ill in a Sweetwater hospital is will be able to return home Thursday reported to be much improved and day or Friday of this week.

Prize Money For Hamlin Livestock Show February 10th Is Announced

Saturday is Livestock Day in Hamlin. It is not to be the biggest show in West Texas, but it is a show to encourage the F. F. A. Boys and their fathers and neighbors in producing better stock and more stock.

The number of fat calves to be shown is not as large as in former years, but indications are that the quality will be better.

If you get this information before noon, Saturday, Feb. 10, there is still plenty of time for you to hop into your car and come over and enjoy the good time in "Friendly" Hamlin-town.

There will be something 'doin' every minute.' Come out of your shell of cold weather and get some new pep into your bones.

The Hamlin ladies will have a show house of "hobbies" that will entertain everyone. If you have something you want to enter, bring it in and they will display it for you, and guarantee it will not be lost. What you got? One farmer says he has a pair of his baby socks made for him about a hundred years ago and he is bringing them to display. That is an example. One person has a pitcher that is 300 years old and it will likely come down from Peacock to be shown. It will be interesting.

Then there will be the fat calves, the chubby hogs, the sheep, the Jersey cows, maybe some mules, and a horse or two. Well, all this is worth while. It is better to have boys play with stock than to be trying to figure out how to get something for nothing. What you grow is nearly always net, too.

Hamlin merchants, unselfishly welcome you to visit Hamlin-town, Saturday, Feb. 10.

This is DELBERT KITE and his LAMBS

A boy with playmates like these shown with Delbert Kite, is sure to grow into a useful man. Delbert is the only "sheep man" so far to enter any lambs for the show. Delbert makes up in interest and enthusiasm. Look at the picture again. Which looks the most innocent? Which looks the most loving, and lovable? Delbert, old chap, everybody loves a boy who loves a lamb. Stay in there with your sheep, they will not disappoint you.

J. W. WILCOX

J. W. Wilcox died at his home in east Hamlin, Wednesday night, January 31, at 9:35, following a heart attack which he had suffered late that afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, February 1, and burial was in East Cemetery under the direction of Barrow Undertaking Company.

Mr. Wilcox had made his home in Hamlin for the past 25 years, and for 20 years of that time was employed by the city, until about five years ago when his health became bad and he was unable to work.

He was born April 26, 1870 in Howard County, Missouri, and came with his parents to McGregor, Texas in 1883. He was united in marriage to Miss Surilda Elizabeth Prock on September 22, 1896 in Cleburne, Texas, and in 1901 he with his family moved to Quanah, where they lived until coming to Hamlin in 1915.

He was a member of the Methodist church for more than 25 years.

In 1907 the Editor of the Herald became personally acquainted with Mr. Wilcox and had known him personally for practically all of 33 years. We always found him to be an honest, hard working man. No job was ever too hard for J. W. Wilcox. His long years of service in Hamlin was of a nature that most people failed to appreciate and we can say that no man ever enjoyed a word of praise or compliment on his work better than J. W. Wilcox. He was a man who valued true friendship, and wanted to be a friend to all.

Besides the wife he is survived by 8 children, four sons, Bob, Ben, Sam and Tom and four daughters, Mrs. Eunice Perkins, Mrs. Mayme Millhorn, Mrs. Nell Farrell and Mrs. Rosie Mateche. All the children except one son were present for the funeral. Other survivors are a brother, George Wilcox, Vernon and two sisters Mrs. Bee Nix, Medicine Park, Oklahoma and Mrs. Rose Prock, Ranger, Texas.

Most folks will welcome the coming of spring. But it will be a time of dread for the poor Finns who expect the Russian juggernaut to swarm over them as the icy weather breaks.

Way "Build-up" Helps Will Interest Women

The cause of a woman's periodic suffering from headache, irritability, cramp-like pain, may be functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, a condition that is often helped by CARDUI.

Principal way CARDUI helps is by stimulating appetite and the flow of gastric juices. Thus it may aid digestion; help build up a woman's strength, energy and nerve-force; so increase physical resistance to periodic discomfort.

It also helps reduce periodic distress for many who take it a few days before and during "the time." Your confidence in CARDUI is invited by its 50 years of popularity.

We never have been in jail, and if we turn our vocabulary out with a free path we might land in jail for our language.

The best reading in the Herald this week is about fat calves, and the savings you can make by trading in Hamlin. Read the ads and see what you can find.

A few years ago everybody got to raising onions, and there was such a stink over it that every onion man went broke and quit.

-T&T-

One item this week says there are too many pigs this year. Guess the next thing we hear they will be prorrating cows, bulls and calves. The most fun for a boy in raising a fat calf is to butcher it and feed the lad on some real steak and brown gravy.

-T&T-

Did you ever get to the point when you wanted to cut loose and use all the ugly words that entered your mental make-up.

-T&T-

The Herald has received so many new subscriptions and renewals this week that we would publish them but somebody would swear we were lying . . . you see. Really there are more Herald readers this second week in February, all paid up, than we have ever had in our 26 years in Hamlin.

A merchant who wants to convert his goods into cash, and a little profit, must realize his buyers live in this country. That the best buyers are also subscribers to the Herald and that any article mentioned might land a buyer if they knew just where, what and the price. We can't see where the Young Democrats cut any ice . . . the boys who count live back in the "sticks of the country" . . . they are the ones who count . . . they grow whiskers and spit red . . . they talk straight and mean it . . . yep, they hear about the "Young Democrats" and their doin's and the old boys just squint one eye and say, "upstarts, yelp, you upstarts."

Over there at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, one fellow wanted to take that Mello sample and put it on the Eddie Bread sample and have a real toast treat for breakfast. EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Hamlin does not presume to be a city, but Hamlin people do try to make our neighbors feel at ease and welcome when in our city. All of Hamlin people realize our many needs and limitations. Some suggestions for further improvements were made for the directors to consider, but most of them cost money. Some want certain over-weight business men reduced a lot, but that is tearing down and not building up. Why not somebody suggest putting on a few pounds on the lean fellows.

Fat people or lean folks do not make a community grow. It is the spirit that counts. There is yet plenty to be done to make Hamlin a better place to spend a few short years of life, and the only way to do a thing is to get busy.

Some people want everything done but can't take time to do much themselves.

Anything suggested that is absolutely impractical is as bad as not having anything to offer. Also to try to do something that would put too great a strain on a few struggling business firms, or others would be equally unsound. To most observers, if little things, that cost only a few hours of labor and just a few cents are done at the proper time, this community and any community would look neater and more inviting. What is there about Hamlin that you don't like that can be bettered? The fellow who grumbles and cuts his fellow citizen to pieces and growls does not have time to see much or do anything. There is room for a better Hamlin, and if there is not a better town up here in the corner of Jones County, who is to blame?

John F. Green Jr., a law student in the University of Texas, returned home Sunday. He will resume his studies again in September.

Clarence Young Announces For County Treasurer

Clarence Young, a young man reared in the Boyd Chapel community, 8 miles south of Hamlin, asks this paper to announce him as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer of Jones County. Mr. Young submits the following facts of himself: He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Young, a prominent farming family of the Boyd Chapel community, for 42 years, and 26 years of that time Clarence has been in Jones County also.

Clarence had the advantages of a good rural school and when "grown up" he was a student of the Hamlin High School and was graduated from that school in 1931.

Besides knowing how to drive mules, manipulate a tractor, pick cotton and milk cows, Clarence has learned the dry goods business by clerking in a Hamlin store and he is at present a salesman for the Bonner Dry Goods Store in Anson.

Clarence says he never knew of anyone of his "tribe" asking for a public office and that as far as he could find out all of his kins people have been good citizens, and therefore he feels that he is in his right to ask for this place at the hands of the Jones County voters. Clarence wants to meet the "few" in the county he has not already met in the past 26 years, and will in time cast his big smiling grey eyes at you, asking for your influence and vote. So be on the lookout for this young man Young.

Several of the poultrymen of Jones County attended the meeting at the Abilene Chamber of Commerce on Monday night for the purpose of organizing a West Texas

Poultry Congress.

Lee Bayless, Anson, has bought the flock of Barred Rock chickens of Byers Petty of Merkel. Mr. Petty will switch to the breeding of Black Jersey Giants.

Floyd Lynch, county agent, reports that there are now more than 300 4-H club boys in Jones County and that in the past few days he has had calls to organize several new clubs.

According to figures recently released after a survey, the twelve Southern States have a per capita farm income of only $160 per year as compared with a per capita income of only $160 per year as compared with a per capita income of $390 for the other thirty-six states and a per capita farm income of $545 in Iowa.

Other surveys show that there are over 14,000,000 people employed in agriculture, more than in any other single industry in the nation.

White leghorn chickens, of which they have a large number, just about pay the living expenses of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Watts of the Corinth community. Mr. Watts made a fair yield of cotton the past year, eleven bales from 34 1-2 acres.

Three Jones County breeders have recently purchased registered Jerseys to add to their herd. They are: James M. Walsh, Morgan Prichard Gentry and Charles Walsh, Jr., all of the Hawley community. The cattle were purchased from Shelton Brothers of Brownwood.

Most prolonged cold spell in 41 years places greatest test on gas company facilities in its entire history . . . dependable, unfaltering supply during emergency due to modern, interconnected pipeline system bringing natural gas from 46 separate gas fields . . .

Snow Still Seen As Freeze Goes Into 13th Day

Texas' Coldest Spell
For 41 Years Shows
No Sign of Letup;
Thursday Top Is 24

Dallas headed into its thirteenth day of freezing weather Thursday night as the Weather Bureau hoisted snow signals for this section for Friday and Saturday, with rain in the south portion of East Texas. It was the ninth consecutive day of Dallas' coldest wave in a decade, and despite moderating weather in West Texas the state still was gripped in freezing weather which extended near the coast.

The cold wave is the most tenacious in Texas in forty-one years and in Dallas was comparable with the cold January, 1918, when the mercury dropped below freezing thirty-four days out of the forty from Dec. 27, 1917, to Feb. 4, 1918. Since Dec. 27, 1939, all but five days have had sub-freezing weather, and some of the lowest temperatures were recorded since the all-time low of 3 below zero was set in January, 1930.

One of Lowest Januaries.

Notorious January, already branded the bitterest month of the year by Dallas' twenty-seven-year weather records and by pioneers' tales of the roaring blizzard of '99, will be recorded this year as one of the worst.

The average daily minimum temperature for the month for a twenty-five year period is 36.8 degrees, and is nearly two degrees less than December's average, next coldest month, and nearly four degrees less than the February average. For the current year, however, the average to date is 24.8, twelve degrees below normal.

This was the first frigid January in Dallas since 1936, when a cold wave of several days' duration marked up a 14-degree low. The preceding year the mercury had fallen to 8 degrees. The cold wave of 1930 was the next chronologically, during which the mercury fell to 9. This year the mercury has fallen to 6 twice and is expected to go lower.

—From The Dallas Morning News, Friday, Jan. 26, 1940.

An "Interconnected" System ~ the vital key to unfaltering service!

January, 1940, is recorded as one of the most bitter cold months in our experience. Snow, sleet, ice and bone-chilling winds swept down across this section with a health-threatening viciousness unequalled in 41 years.

Customer requirements for gas jumped to a new high . . . and the demand was great . . . so great that our customers used more gas in fighting the prolonged cold wave than at any similar period in our history.

During this prolonged cold spell, when unfaltering natural gas service was of vital importance for the health and comfort of our customers—NOT A SINGLE TOWN ON LONE STAR GAS SYSTEM WAS WITHOUT ITS GAS SUPPLY.

From 46 separate gas fields natural gas was moved through our 4,700 miles of INTERCONNECTED pipe line system to meet the emergency of the bitter cold weather. From north, east, south and west—from more than 1,000 gas wells in widely separated gas fields—we brought the supply through.

Modern facilities, including our many powerful compressor stations located at strategic points on the system and an abundant supply developed through many years played an important part in meeting this emergency. But of all the facilities maintained 365 days of the year for just such an unusual period as January, 1940, the greatest single factor for your unfaltering gas service is Lone Star Gas Company's INTERCONNECTED PIPE LINE SYSTEM CAPABLE OF BRINGING GAS TO OUR CUSTOMERS FROM 46 SEPARATE GAS FIELDS ACCORDING TO THE EMERGENCY.

Gas dispatchers in headquarters of Lone Star Gas System, Dallas, at work on one of the coldest days of the year. With heavy snow falling and the greatest demand for gas in 30 years, men were at their posts constantly. They are connected with far flung gas fields and compressor stations giving orders to step up pressures and cut in more wells. One man is receiving weather reports over short wave radio. They are alert for any emergency. Left to right: Tom B. Long, chief dispatcher; Luther Tolbert, assistant pipe line superintendent standing back of M. S. Ball, receiving weather reports; H. D. Hewitt, studying pipe line map.

Att'y. Gilbert Smith Announces For Co. Judge Jones County

TO THE CITIZENS OF JONES COUNTY

Qualifications is vitally essential to a public Official, therefore; in announcing as a candidate for County Judge of Jones County, subject to the Democratic Primaries, I do so, feeling that my past experience in the administration of your affairs as a public official is a qualification that entitles me to advancement.

I am 37 years of age, married, and we own our own home. Since finishing high school I have made my own living and obtained my college education and law degree by working as a printer. For 12 years I have practiced law in both State and Federal Courts.

I am not unmindful of the fact that the citizens of this County have, heretofore, been kind to me by placing me in charge of the affairs in the County Attorney's office. For more than five years I have discharged these obligations to the very best of my ability and never at any time have I lost sight of the fact that "A Public Office is a Public Trust."

The success or failure of any public official, must in a large degree be judged by what is done and not what is said; therefore I point with pride to my record as County Attorney, with assurance that if elected County Judge, my undivided attention shall continue to be given to the duties and responsibilities of the office and my best efforts expended in the service of all the people all of the time.

One of the principal reasons why I think the County Attorney's office is one of importance is because of the fact that the young men who are first offenders, that is young persons who for his or her first time violate the laws of this State and find themselves in the custody of officers, come exclusively under the jurisdiction of your County Attorney, and it is at this point in their young lives that their future is either made or broken. From this experience the young first offender is either made into a useful citizen, or he becomes an enemy to Society. At times in dealing with these young offenders, I may have been too lenient, but I have tried hard to help them and to reclaim them to Society, rather than to bring the wrath of the law down upon them.

It is a well established precedent in Texas, that due to the close association of the offices, the County Attorney's office is the logical position in which to gain a thorough knowledge of the duties and responsibilities of a County Judge.

Your County Judge is the chief executive of the affairs and business of the County; he is chairman of the Commissioners' Court who are your directors in operating the biggest business we have in this County. In choosing a man to manage your personal business and administering to your personal affairs, you select a man qualified; this same rule should be kept in mind when you select your County Judge.

Due to the many changes of our State laws, the duties of County Judge are increasing, requiring a constant study and interpretation of the various phases of the laws such as: court procedure, probate and guardianship matters, taxation questions, relief matters, property rights, the expenditures of public money and many others. I invite you to investigate the records of my office, especially the economical manner in which I have disposed of such a great number of cases and in gathering criminal evidence.

For any consideration and support, you the voters of Jones County, can give me in the forth coming primary I shall be very grateful. If you see fit to elect me as your next County Judge I assure you I shall serve you to the best of my ability, and with no hesitancy I pledge you the following: economy in county government; a fair and courteous consideration of your problems; an equitable administration of your court and a very co-operative spirit with other public officials.

During the coming months, with the late winter and spring terms of the Courts coming, it will be difficult for me to spend the time away from my office to contact each of you personally, therefore I hope you will consider this message as a personal solicitation for your vote and influence.

May I again thank you for the confidence and co-operation shown me in the capacity in which I now serve you, and earnestly solicit your consideration in the coming primary.

Respectfully,
GILBERT SMITH

"WE RIDE HERD ON KILOWATTS"

THE LINEMAN is similar to the old-time cowboy in many ways. He wears spurs. His work is highly exciting—and, at times, extremely hazardous. Like the cowboy who must guard his charges against unruly elements, this modern linerider's work is increased tenfold in bad weather.

The main difference is that the cowboy tended livestock.

The lineman tends live wires and rides herd on kilowatts.

You've seen him many times, high up on 50-foot poles wherever new lines are being built or old lines repaired. His is one of the most hazardous jobs in the world.

Although his work is unusual, he lives a normal life. He is a good citizen . . . maybe he is your neighbor. He is one of the hundreds of men and women, working "behind the scenes," who make Electric Service efficient, dependable, and economical here. He is one of Your Electric Servants whose praise goes unsung. On him we bestow a title of honor in this Southwestern country—"A Modern Linerider."

"Lost Opportunity"

By Rev. J. A. Young

The northeastern part of Europe is very rich in scenery. At this time, I have reference to a beautiful prairie with a gradual rise toward the east, dotted with small farm houses covered with oval tile glittering toward the western sun with the seven colors of the rainbow. The laborers are seen coming home from the harvest fields where they have been reaping the golden grain such as wheat, oats, and barley. Others come from the hay meadow. The pedestrians are seen walking to and fro on the lateral roads. Little children are playing under the trees in front of the different dwellings. All of it gives an air of contentment.

On the west side the said prairie drops very abruptly toward a beautiful stream, but on the bank of the east side is seen a number of caves. In one of them is a mother fox with six little puppies. On the west side of the stream is a great forest with several hundred acres of tall trees from seventy to eighty feet high. It was one of those trees that had fallen over a stream from west to east. This constituted a bridge where men and beast could cross. The Scripture tells us when darkness falls upon the earth the beast of the field go out to seek their prey. So it was at this time. The mother fox went out from her den in the shades of the night and crossed on the narrow bridge into the forest. She ran to and fro during the dark hours of the night until the breaking of day when she found her prey. Now she started toward her den proudly holding her head high. In crossing the stream on that narrow bridge, she saw the reflection of her game in the water. She quickly grabbed at the reflection and lost the reality. Now if there is anything within the breast of the animal kingdom that can bemoan lost treasures, it was done at this particular time, as the mother fox was standing on that narrow bridge and saw her game floating down stream and had to go to her den and face her family of puppies without any breakfast.

While this picture is taken from the animal kingdom, I believe that we as the human family can learn a great lesson. I have known some boys and girls (not so often with the girls) who have run well for a season but later something has attracted their attention outside the classroom. They begin to be tardy, miss classes later, and finally drop out altogether. Time goes on. These young men step over the threshold of the parental home into an unfriendly world. One of them walked up to the president of a business firm and applied for a job. There were several questions propounded to him. The last was, "Have you received a high school education?" The young man dropped his head and answered, "No." This aroused slumbering conscience in regard to his past failures and he too was standing on the narrow bridge, seeing his opportunity floating down the stream of time.

Life consists of three important cycles. One might call them scholastic age, young manhood and womanhood, and old age. We saw that manifested in the life of Moses. He was forty years in Pharaoh's court, and forty years in the desert, where God spoke to him constantly from the canopy of heaven and finally from the burning bush and the last forty years he became the great deliverer of the Children of Israel. He attained a longer life than we do now; hence his cycles extended over a greater number of years.

In our minds we can see the young mother sitting by her baby's crib watching her darling baby. The night is growing dark and the cold wind and rain is beating on the window pane. "Where is John?" Something has attracted his attention from home and his family. He used to be so considerate in regard to my joys and comfort. He used to place bouquets of flowers in my arms and he took me where ever I wanted to go. There was no sacrifice too great on his part to bring joy and happiness to my heart. Where is John tonight? Perhaps he is in that silver plated barroom on main street or in that road house on the public highway or in some isolated shack. Oh! Where is John in whom I confided my all when I placed my hand in his hand." I can see this young mother standing on that narrow bridge of life and feel the pangs of grief in her heart for the mistake in the past.

I have known fathers who have been incumbered with responsibilities of family duties. They did not have any permanent place, but owing to the present condition had to move from place to place. That same father remembered when wages were high and conditions of independence were in his favor. He remembered when a home was offered him on easy terms, but in his fancy he thought good wages and a home on easy terms would always be available, and in his careless mood wasted the golden opportunity presented him in his early days and he too was standing on that narrow bridge watching opportunity floating down the stream of time.

But I have in my mind a more serious picture than any of the others. I have seen young men and young ladies very powerfully moved by the spirit of God to surrender their lives to Him and in turn receive everlasting life and happiness with Him in Heaven, but have spurned the Holy Spirit and gone on with no joy here on earth and no future home in Heaven. Such a mistake is far more serious than any earthly loss.

Dear reader be conservative and listen to the better impulse of your soul and act accordingly. It would be a sad day if you should be found standing on that narrow bridge of life some day with rejected grace and facing the great Eternity.

BOYD CHAPEL CHIRPS

(By Mrs. L. F. Cozzen)

There were quite a few at B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening. Owing to the bad weather the crowd had been falling off, but maybe we are going to have some pretty weather now and interest will pick up again.

Those on the sick list this week are Mrs. L. E. Cozzen, J. P. Bingham, Alvin Dean, Mrs. Vivian Madden, Mrs. G. W. Bristow, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Cozzen and Herthu Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Judge Crow and Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Madden returned home last Thursday from Edinburg where they had been for several days visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Haught and Virginia Cozzen spent Saturday night and Sunday with their sister, Mrs.

Arthur Daniel Died In El Centro, Calif.

Information reached Hamlin on Thursday night, February 1, that Arthur Daniel had died in El Centro, California. At the time no details could be obtained except that the body would arrive in Sweetwater on Sunday morning.

The Barrow Funeral Directors met the train and took charge of the funeral and burial arrangements.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church in Hamlin at 3:00 P. M. Sunday by Rev. John P. Hardesty of McCaulley, and burial was in Hamlin East Cemetery by the side of the father, W. H. Daniel, who passed away several years ago.

A letter was received by a brother Monday giving more particulars about Arthur's death. He had been living in San Diego, employed in a cafe, and on Wednesday he phoned a sister that he was ill. She went to him and found him very sick, complaining of a kind of smothering condition. She took him to an El Centro hospital and he fell asleep and continued growing lower till death came about 1:30 A. M. Thursday morning, February 1st.

Arthur Daniel was born at Hearne, Texas, April 10, 1899, and came with his parents, to Jones County in 1906. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. W. H. Daniel and four brothers, G. A. Daniel of Hamlin; W. A. Daniel of Eunice, New Mexico; Clyde Daniel of Lubbock; and Aubrey Daniel of Anton, Texas. Also four sisters survive, namely: Mrs. E. L. Hines, of Hamlin; Mrs. Sherman Moulton of Sparenburg, Texas; Mrs. Johnnie Wallace of Lone Pine, California; and Mrs. Edgar Sylvester of Brawley, Calif.

Arthur had never married. He had spent his young manhood in the Hamlin community, going to school here and working at various cafes and hotels. He was a member of the Hamlin Baptist Church for many years, and had studied for the ministry in Simmons University.

Arthur Daniel possessed a very fine disposition, being gentle and courteous and considerate of his fellowman.

The funeral service was well attended. Many beautiful floral offerings were evidence of the love and esteem his acquaintances held for him.

The pallbearers were Floyd Bevels, Grover Sipe, Arthur Burns, H. M. Rawlins, Ed Griffin, and George Ewing.

Friends and relatives from out-of-town attending the funeral of Arthur Daniel were, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swope and daughters of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Cook and son and Mrs. Mabrey of Sparenburg; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Davis and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Davis and daughter of Rule; Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nixon and son and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Brown of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chandler of Coleman.

Flete Poe Makes Good As Mgr. Neinda Gin

This week, F. W. Poe, Manager for the Neinda Farmers Cooperative Gin Society, No. 1 was a caller at the Herald Office and we learned from him something of his success in one of Jones County's most prominent gins.

Mr. Poe became manager 11 years ago. He kept an accurate record and it is interesting to note that this gin company has made a wonderful record.

They organized in 1928 and their gin was paid out by 1932.

Below we give what Mr. Poe says is their record in bales and benefits to the customers.

Bales Ginned	Year	Amount to Customers
4888	1932	$3700
4600	1933	$17,000
1728	1934	$6,000
3636	1935	$8,920
2100	1936	$5,250
4435	1937	$17,187
2287	1938	5,665
1566	1939	$3,700

The only trouble the Neinda farmers feel now is that some day Hamlin's Neinda Lake will wash away all their bales. They want water, but not that much . . . and they need not worry.

Texas has more voters this year than ever before, indicating a hot campaign in the offing. Harris Co. with approximately 125,000 electors led the state with Dallas County second with some 95,000.

BAPTIST CHURCH CALLED PASTOR

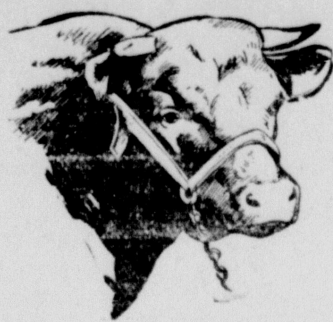

As per announcement, last Sunday, the Baptist people called a pastor to take the place of Rev. J. Henry Littleton, resigned.

The announcement said that Rev. P. D. O'Brien of Stamford would fill the pulpit, but his mother was very ill and someone else had to be substituted.

Rev. Powell, pastor of the University Baptist church in Abilene, preached at the morning hour. His sermon was termed extra great by all.

Rev. Powell was elected as moderator for the business session and the business was to vote on a pastor.

From the ballot none but the two men who had preached here, once each, were considered seriously for pastor.

The pulpit committee first invited Rev. W. T. Hamor, of Winters, to preach for the congregation, with the view of calling him. Then the next Sunday, Rev. H. E. East, pastor of the Knox City church, was invited with the same object in view. So these two men received the bulk of the vote.

Rev. Hamor received 54 votes.

Rev. East received 104 votes.

Not ready received 17 votes.

Someone voted for the retiring pastor.

Someone voted "none."

The motion prevailed by a standing vote to make it unanimous.

Rev. East will appear before the Board of Deacons one day this week and talk over the situation. He has received a most unusual call, and will likely accept. If he does the Herald will take pleasure in introducing him to this section of the country.

If no further announcement is made in this week's Herald, rest assured that someone will be in the pulpit this Sunday to preach.

He takes 'a stitch in time' on Texas telephones

Each day this Texas telephone man flips keys and watches sensitive indicators as he searches for a clue to possible trouble on Texas telephones.

He fully appreciates the wisdom of a stitch in time in finding and fixing troubles—or weak spots that might result in trouble. That is one way we safeguard your telephone service in Texas. And one result is that despite the increasing complexity of telephone equipment, telephone customers report troubles on their telephones only half as often as they did 10 years ago.

A stitch in time saves nine. These words in action contribute their full share to the accuracy, dependability, and low cost of your telephone service.
